

Mr Bataung Mokete

Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon

Locations:

Optegra Eye Hospital Bradford

Mr Bataung Mokete is a Consultant Ophthalmologist at St James's University Hospital, Leeds.

Mr Mokete qualified from medical school at the University of Bristol in 1992, and continued his ophthalmic training on the South Thames rotation of the London Deanery.

He then completed advanced subspecialty training in medical retina at Moorfields before completing a vitreoretinal surgery Fellowship in Brighton and a further Fellowship at St Thomas' Hospital in London.

Expertise

- Cataract Surgery

Education

- Medical school at the University of Bristol 1992

Qualifications

- BSc
- FRCSEd
- MBChB

Mr Bataung Mokete

Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon

Locations:

Optegra Eye Hospital Bradford

Patient Feedback

I travelled a significant distance to see Mr Bataung Mokete, Consultant Ophthalmologist, at the Optegra Eye Hospital in Bradford. I was so pleased that I did. What a thorough examination I received and what a lovely, approachable, and supportive Consultant. I am so grateful for the care I received. I would unreservedly recommend you to friends and family and I do thank you.