

Ms Fong May Chew

Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon

Locations:

Optegra Eye Clinic Sheffield

May Chew is a consultant ophthalmologist at Optegra Eye Hospital, who has trained in London and Canada. She specialises in complex cataract and Vitreoretinal surgery and works at the Royal Hallamshire.

She has a deep passion for surgery and improving patients' vision. Her work is driven by the profound fulfilment of restoring sight, enhancing quality of life, and empowering individuals through advanced ophthalmic solutions.

Beyond the clinic, she embraces an active lifestyle, finding joy and balance in skiing and tennis. These pursuits reflect her appreciation for precision, agility, and the outdoors—qualities that parallel her meticulous approach to eye surgery. Whether on the slopes, the court, or in the operating room, she approaches every challenge with dedication, embodying a commitment to excellence in both professional and personal endeavours.

Expertise

- Cataract Surgery

Education

- Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery – MBBS Imperial College London

“ ”

What first attracted Fong May Chew to ophthalmology?

She has a deep passion for surgery and improving patients' vision. Her work is driven by the profound fulfilment of restoring sight, enhancing quality of life, and empowering individuals through advanced ophthalmic solutions.